

2009 Bruntsfield

The first Glasgow pair were Douglas Briggs (Captain) and Hugh Brebner, the “Father” of the team, who had celebrated his 88th birthday four days before. From the beginning, the Glasgow team were in trouble, losing 3 of the first 4 games and the final result was Edinburgh 5, Glasgow 3. The final irony was that the club steward forgot about the tea and sandwiches, prompting one of the Glasgow team to remind us of the age old Edinburgh expression, in the presence of visitors as tea time approaches, “You will have had your tea, haven’t you.” Despite our defeat and hunger we arrived back in Glasgow happy, having had a most enjoyable day.
