

The Fergus Hewat Cup - Glasgow Golf Club, Killermont - 2nd June 2014

The annual match for the Fergus Hewat Cup had a slight edge to it this year as Edinburgh tried to avenge a run by Glasgow of three in a row.

The morning of the 2nd June was dreich but, after drinks and an appropriate lunch served in the dining room of the Glasgow Golf Club, all seemed that bit better.

There was the usual tension around pairings and the captains' balance of who plays where in the team order. There was a feeling that the captains felt in Ryder Cup mode. The rain disappeared and at 14:00 battle commenced.

The course was in immaculate condition and once excuse for poor play soon disappeared.

Edinburgh came out fighting.

The game went to the wire with 6 of the 8 matches finishing on the 18th green.

In this closely fought and fairly even contest, Glasgow won with 4 ½ points to Edinburgh's 3 ½.
